My eyes were closed. I didn't see the bright light. I didn't realize the brightness was coming from inside my eyelids until I got to my desk and opened my eyes. I've never realized before how much I need to sleep. When I read this morning, my mind stayed focused. ... My 19-year-old son and his friends were trying to set a fishing line off the dock at their lake house. Unfortunately, the line got tangled in a tree, and they couldn't get it back. The next-to-last thing I heard before I fell asleep was "Mom, come help us get this line out of the tree." I was asleep in 5 minutes. I got up, dressed, checked my voice mail, and ... My classmate, who is bi-polar, got into an argument with her father about her medication and the prescription for her. She told her father that she was "on lithium," which is how she gets the many pills in the middle of the day and at night. He was convinced that she wasn't taking it, and he told her he was going to call the psychiatrist. I warned ... My Sunday novel of the week is Margaret Mitchell's Pulitzer Prize-winning, best-selling novel, Gone With the Wind. In my novel of the week, Gone With the Wind, Mrs. Kennedy dresses in blue and gold and runs back to Washington, D.C., to assure her family and friends that they can expect a baby in the next few months. This is what the author sets up; this is what he ... My character's first line from my new novel, The Long Way Home, is "I want to be a writer, so I can write about all the things I've never had the time or the courage to write about." That's the same thing I wrote when I started this blog. My first novel, which I started writing

Donations to Becoming Allergy

Free provide funds for housing, food, and medical care that homeless persons receive in the months and years following an asthma attack. Our status as a 501(c)3 organization means that your donated money is tax-deductible. We thank you for your support, your faith, and your generosity. Becoming Allergy Free is a nonprofit 501(c)3 organization. Becoming Allergy Free Our Mission. Becoming Allergy Free provides emergency and ongoing housing for homeless persons with asthma, as well as access to medical care and education on the disease. We are a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization with an increasing number of volunteers to ensure that people with asthma have their needs met throughout the course of their recovery.

Sponsorship Support the organization by becoming a member or sponsor.

Sponsorship is the most effective way to be involved in our organization by providing funds for Housing and Medical Care for people who are homeless or at risk of becoming homeless. Becoming Allergy Free is a registered charity with the state of Texas and the IRS.
