

Electronic Equipment Export of Greece: The Comprehensive Trade Overview

With the evolution of the modern world, the daily lifestyle of the global population has also been gradually upgrading. This has led to an increasing use of electronic equipment, such as semiconductors, resistors, capacitors, and integrated circuits, for performing various operations. Various types of consumer electronics, industrial electronics, and telecommunication devices are utilized across a wide range of sectors for communication, electricity generation, and signal transmission. The growing universal demand and the specialization of different countries in different components, like China's effective growth rate of laptop manufacturing and Japan's active upgrade regarding semiconductor production, have maintained continuity in the global electronic equipment trade. Greece Import Data says that the country in southern Europe, alongside the crossroads of Europe, Asia, and America, has recorded itself as a leading exporter of electronic equipment due to the transshipment via the port of Piraeus.

The improvement of customs digitization and the active participation of the marketing authorities of Greece in EU trade agreements have resulted in an export rate value of electronic equipment worth 10 billion US dollars in 2024. The expansion of the technological and startup ecosystem, along with the collaboration between universities and industries, has substantially contributed to the hike in the export of electronic equipment. THE INFLUENTIAL GOVERNMENT PLANS TO SUPPORT THE EXPORT OF ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT FROM GREECE IN 2024

Greece 2.0, the National Recovery and Resilience Plan, introduced by the government authorities as a major European Union-funded program, has upgraded the infrastructure and the digital business capabilities of the nation. It is designed to support the manufacturers of electronic equipment in raising the productivity level. The Digitalization of Small and Medium Enterprises Voucher Scheme is structured to purchase digital technologies for the benefit of manufacturers through the industrial digital systems, via proper scale-up of their export manufacturing of components.

The revamped Investment Incentive Development Flow, by the government authorities, has initiated funds with the European Investment Bank. It has influenced the producers and exporters to incentivize their investment in the upgradation of the facilities for boosting the export output. The Export Promotion via Enterprise Greece and Export Promotion Framework has promoted the international buyers to secure a rank as a top supplier, while raising the export volumes of Greece's electronic supplies, solidifying the country's rank.
